CHILIAN AFFAIRS.

A Feeling of Uneasiness Still Prevails.

SOME STARTLING DISCLOSURES.

Balmaceda's Former Minister to Be Prosecuted—Senator Encina Sued for Forty-Five Million Dollars—Notwithstanding All the Recent Trouble Chill Will Be Well Represented at the World's Fair—No Trouble Feared Between That Country and the United States.

VALPARAISO, Nov. 25.—The feeling of uneasiness caused in certain circles by the decision of congress to authorize the prosecution by Procurator Fiscal of Senator Jose Encina, recently a member of the late President Balmaceda's congress, on charges of fraud, has increased greatly, and has caused considerable excitement and consternation in Chilean circles here.

The cause of this renewed trepidation is the fact that it was announced yesterday that all Balmaceda's former ministers were to be prosecuted and that some startling disclosures may be expected when the public ventilation of their affairs is made. These ministers were all indicted yesterday and their trials will be pushed at the earliest possible moment.

The indictments brought in yesterday are said to have been the result, directly or indirectly, of the preliminary examinations to which Senator Encina was subjected. The latter is sued for the sum of $45,000,000, the amount of notes issued by Balmaceda's congress, and which have since been declared illegal by the new government. The fact that these indictments will be pressed to the bitter end, seems to denote that some wholesale confiscations of property may be made, temporarily at least, in the near future.

In spite of the decision of congress to do everything possible to place Chilean finances on a firm basis, and the fact that considerable retrenchment and economies are necessary, it has been decided officially to devote the sum of $200,000 to provide for Chili's representation at the Chicago fair in 1893.

There is a marked reaction as this action just taken will show in favor of the United States. This may or may not be caused by the fact that it is an acknowledged fact that the Chilean authorities having the Baltimore's sailors' grievances in course of investigation, are weakening considerably.

Though the official result of the investigation has not yet become known enough has leaked out to show that the high stand at first taken by the police and other officials has dwindled down into a very much more common sense frame of mind.

It is reported here, in this connection, that this change of mind is to a considerable extent due to sobering advice which the Chilean government has received semi-officially from the representatives here of the European powers. The Chileans, there is no doubt, at one time counted on being supported in the ground they took by the British minister and, perhaps, by the British government. There may or may not have been at any time foundation for such a belief, but it is safe to say that the Chileans have been thoroughly convinced that they will have to rely on themselves alone should any cause any further trouble to the United States.

This assurance and the reports which have reached here of extensive naval preparations being made by the United States have considerably dampened the warlike ardor of the people of this city and of Santiago, and it is probable that a compromise report, doing justice to the Baltimore's men, and incidentally to the United States will be soon rendered.

And now another most important question has cropped up. It is reported here, in official circles, that, whatever the result of the Baltimore inquiry may be, the United States will demand an indemnity of Chili for the families of the men killed and for the expense the United States government has been put to owing to armaments, etc., made necessary by the recent trouble between the two governments.

Balmaceda's Expenses.

VALPARAISO, Nov. 25.—The government makes public a statement to the effect that Balmaceda while in power, against the authority of congress, spent $78,000,000 in all. Of this $20,000,000 was in cash, $30,000,000 of illegal bank notes, and $28,000,000 consisted of ordinary receipts. He left $67,000,000 in circulation.

TRAIN ROBBERY.

Three Masked Men Foiled in Their Attempt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The particulars of an attempt at train robbery have just come to light. Last Sunday evening a little after 8 o'clock the Los Angeles express stopped at Pixley, Cal., on its way south. When about to start again the trainmen were warned that three men, masked and armed, were waiting in the shadow of the tank house just beyond the depot. They had been loitering about during the afternoon, and were seen at the last minute by a Chinaman, who gave the alarm.

The train was backed some distance and then ran by the ambush at a very high speed. No clue to the would-be robbers has been found as yet. It is a favorite plan of robbers to board a train just as it is pulling out of the station.

IRWIN, Pa., Nov. 25.—The Farmers' and Miners' Deposit bank, Pool & Son, proprietors, failed Tuesday morning. Assets and liabilities unknown. The depositors are swarming about the bank, and the excitement is intense.

A FATAL WELL.

School Closed by the Wholesale Poisoning of the Pupils and Teacher.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Nov. 25.—Information has been brought to County Superintendent Lydy that one of the public schools in Forest township, in the eastern part of Clinton county, had been closed by the wholesale poisoning of the pupils, and also the teacher. An investigation proves that the teacher and fifteen of his pupils are in a critical condition, while two of them are dead.

The school is located in the country, and a few weeks ago the township trustees caused a well to be driven on the premises, from which the school got their supply of water. For the past three weeks the teacher, Joseph Goar, has noticed the attendance growing gradually less, all caused by sickness. One week ago he himself was taken ill, and compelled to close the school. It was found upon investigation that all the pupils who had regularly drank of the water from the well were sick, while a few pupils who lived near the school house and went home for meals were not affected.

The symptoms developed are similar to those of typhoid fever. Thursday a child of Robert Dillion that had been afflicted for several days grew rapidly worse, and died Friday. Saturday another of the pupils, a ten-year-old daughter of John Burgett, became suddenly worse, and died Sunday. Investigation last evening shows that fifteen other pupils and the teacher are decidedly worse, and several more deaths are expected by the doctors.

The doctors say it is a clear case of water poisoning. An incomplete analysis of the water was made yesterday, which confirms their theory. They say the water possesses some peculiar chemical property, which, in its action on the water pipes, generates the poison. Samples of the water have been secured, and will be subjected to a critical analysis in order to unravel the deadly mystery.

What makes the case more dangerous is the apparent fact that those who have drank the water are afflicted with blood poisoning.

Storm in Canada.

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—A very severe westerly and northwesterly gale about midnight continued all through the night and is still blowing. The rest of the wall of the building that collapsed on Notre Dame street yesterday has blown down, and it is believed adjoining buildings will have to be pulled down. The smokestack of Le Nouve newspaper office was blown down. Other buildings, trees and telegraph wires in different parts of the city suffered. Telegraph communication with all surrounding places is cut off and it is feared that much damage has been done.

Relics of the Glacial Period.

SEYMOUR, Ind., Nov. 25.—In digging a well on his "ridge" farm, near Hayden, an elevated piece of land remote from any water course, Samuel M. Little discovered, at the depth of nearly forty feet below the surface, several large logs, well preserved, and of a variety of timber not now known in this neighborhood. The location and condition of the "find" indicate very plainly that the logs must have been deposited there by the ice movement during the glacial period.

A Hunter's Find.

ENGLISH, Ind., Nov. 25.—While Alexander Lewis and his two sons were hunting in the vicinity of Temple, the dogs "treed" something in a hollow tree which proved to be an infant but two or three days' old, and still alive. The child had evidently been abandoned to its fate. Not knowing what else to do, Mr. Lewis carried the little one to his home, and there is every prospect that it will be successfully reared. The child has fallen into kindly hands.

Shot His Friend While Hunting.

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Nov. 25.—Mack Dowden was accidentally shot Monday by William Vincent. The boys were hunting, and had "treed" a rabbit which they were trying to dislodge. Vincent's eagerness to dispatch the cotton-tail resulted in emptying one barrel into Dowden's hip and back. The injured man bled quite freely, and seemed to be badly hurt, but Dr. Miesse thinks if he escapes blood-poisoning he will recover.

Suing a Railroad.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Nov. 25.—An action for $5,000 damages was commenced at Hammond yesterday against the Michigan Central Railroad company. Some time ago Mrs. H. C. Ewing was killed and her little child injured by a Michigan Central train at a street crossing. The mother died soon after the accident, and the little one still lives, but has never fully recovered from the injuries received at the time.

Slain by Footpads.

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Nov. 25.—E. J. Chapin, a traveling salesman from Chicago, was sandbagged and robbed on Main street here early Monday morning. He lies in an unconscious condition at the Ross House, and only slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Two Boys Frozen Stiff.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 25.—The sixteen-year-old son of L. B. Cochran and the ten-year-old son of E. Walton were lost in the storm Saturday, and found frozen to death by a search party. The horses were beside them.

Woman Killed on the Railroad.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 25.—Mrs. Mary Basbasgill, aged about sixty-six years, was run down by a train on the Pan-handle railroad, six miles east of this city, yesterday. Her body was horribly mangled.

Justifiable Homicide.

MILLERSBURG, O., Nov. 25.—Coroner Cole has rendered a verdict in the Maxwell killing of justifiable homicide. This was expected, and seems to be in accordance with the facts.

REVOLT IN BRAZIL.

Particulars of the Resignation of President Fonseca.

THE EFFECT OF THE UPRISING.

Rio Janeiro is in a State of Great Excitement, but No Reports Have come as Yet Indicating Mob Law or Serious Disorder.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Details of the revolt at Rio Janeiro are meagre, but it is known that the uprising was so formidable that Fonseca considered it impossible to longer maintain his ascendancy, and has surrendered his authority.

In retiring, or resigning as he called it, he declared that he did so in favor of Floriano Peixotto, the vice president, or vice chief, of the provisional government, of which Fonseca was the head. Whether the opposition will be content to allow Peixotto, about whom little is known here, to assume the leadership is not known. It is not believed that he will be permitted to act as chief executive, even temporarily, unless he is in sympathy with the ideas and principles of the leaders of the revolutionary movement.

Rio Janeiro is in a state of great excitement, but no reports have come as yet indicating mob law or serious disorder. The uprising, however, had the effect of putting a stop for the time being to all kinds of business. The exchanges are closed, and everybody is interested in watching political developments that no thought is given to commercial pursuits or business elements.

The news that Fonseca had resigned spread through the city like wildfire. Everywhere it was received with enthusiastic cheers and exclamations of satisfaction. It is believed from the advices hitherto received in regard to the growing opposition throughout the country to Fonseca's supremacy that the news of his downfall will everywhere be received with the same satisfaction as at the capital.

The News Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Minister Mendonca received a cablegram from the Brazilian minister of foreign affairs last night which officially confirms the cable dispatches from Brazil about the resignation of President Fonseca and stating that Vice President Peixotto had succeeded him. Minister Mendonca said that the receipt of the news gave him great pleasure, as there had been no bloodshed and tranquility will now prevail, and the change will establish harmony among the Brazilian people. He said that Fonseca was not a man who would cause bloodshed and would willingly sacrifice the honor and glory of his high position rather than cause civil war; and as the uprising in Brazil was a national movement, the people not being in accord with the policy of Fonseca, he bowed to the inevitable and retired. He also thought that it was the desire of the people of Brazil to support the deposed congress and that President Peixotto would be in thorough accord with it.

Brazil's New Cabinet.

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 25.—Acting President Peixotto has appointed the following cabinet: Minister of war, General Jose Semeao; minister of marine, Admiral Custodio de Mello; finance, Dr. Francisco Alves; justice and the interior, Jose Pereira; agriculture, Antao D. Faria; foreign affairs, Constantino Polita. Senor Figuerido is in prison on the charge of having abused his opportunities in connection with Brazilian finances. No sympathy is expressed for him.

Delayed Justice.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Nov. 25.—The coroner has finished the investigation of the murder of a tramp near this city, and with the abundance of information usually resulting from coroner's investigations, return is made that "the deceased came to his death at the hands of some person or persons unknown." This much is known, that no well-directed effort has been made to hunt down the perpetrators of this bloody deed. No reward was offered, and thereby the county was spared the cost of a prosecution. The fellow-tramp of the victim is still held for drunkenness and vagrancy, in the hope that something may turn up.

Locked Up for Murder.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., Nov. 24.—While a dance was in progress at Cochran on the 7th inst., a dispute over a woman arose between Walter Bland and John Cooper, and Cooper was stabbed in the back with a small penknife. Little heed was paid to the injury, but Bland was placed under arrest. Yesterday afternoon, while the preliminary examination of Bland was in progress before a squire in this city, a messenger came rushing in with the information that Brown had died of his injury. The charge against Bland was changed to murder, and he was committed without bail.

A School House Fire.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 25.—Fire at 8:30 Tuesday morning gutted several rooms in the Perry street school building and other portions were damaged by water. The original school building had been enlarged. The fire was caused by a defective flue. Fortunately the fire started before the school hour and not many children were in the building.

Petition to Congress.

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—The presidents of the twenty trade organizations which make up the Boston Executive Business association have signed a petition to be presented to congress asking that a new postal law be established, making fourth class matter dutiable at the same rate of postage as third class matter.

EARL OF LYTTON DEAD.

Sudden Demise of the British Ambassador to the French Republic.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The Earl of Lytton, British ambassador to the French republic, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. He had been engaged in writing verses and retired to bed at about 8:30 in the afternoon. About 4 o'clock a servant heard a deep sigh and hastened to his lordship's bedside. Lord Lytton was unconscious and apparently lifeless. Lady Edith Lytton returned to the embassy about 4:15, too late for any signs of recognition on the part of her husband. The doctors concluded that death had been caused by a spasm of the heart.

Ever since the fact became known, a stream of notabilities have been pouring into the embassy. Among the prominent callers were President Carnot, Minister of War Freycinet and Minister of the Interior Constans, besides all the prominent diplomatic representatives now in Paris, including Whitelaw Reid, the American minister. The deepest grief is expressed for his lordship's death, as he was popular with everybody.

He was the son of the famous novelist Bulwer, and was widely famous as "Owen Meredith," author of Lucille and other popular poems.

News of His Death in London.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The news of the death of the Earl of Lytton was received here yesterday evening and caused a feeling of profound regret to spread throughout the clubs of all descriptions. On all sides were heard words of the warmest praise and sympathy for the diplomat and for "Owen Meredith."

The Earl of Lytton was born Nov. 8, 1831, and takes rank among distinguished Englishmen as a poet and diplomatist. As "Owen Meredith," he was well known in the world of letters before he achieved fame in the world of diplomacy. Lord Lytton was educated at Harrow, and under his father, the great novelist, dramatist and statesman, and under private tutors. He entered the diplomatic service when only eighteen years of age, being appointed attaché at Washington in 1849, where his uncle, Sir Henry Bulwer, afterwards Lord Dalling and Bulwer was ambassador. In 1852 he was transferred as attaché to Florence, and in 1854 he was removed to the embassy at Paris.

In 1858 Lord Lytton was first paid attaché at St. Petersburg; the same year he was gazetted first paid attaché at Constantinople. From that embassy, in 1859, he was transferred to the embassy at Vienna. As a reward for good service on Oct. 1, 1862, Lord Lytton was gazetted second secretary and, shortly afterwards, he was promoted to be secretary of the legation at Copenhagen. On May 15, 1863, he was gazetted secretary of the legation at Athens; in 1863 he successfully concluded the negotiation of a commercial treaty between Great Britain and Austria and was then transferred to Madrid. Six months later Lord Lytton was promoted to the secretaryship of the embassy at Vienna and was transferred in 1872 to Paris. On Jan. 18, 1873, upon the death of his father, he succeeded to the title of second Lord Lytton, he having declined the governorship of Madras. Lord Lytton was appointed ambassador at Lisbon in December, 1874.

In January, 1878, Lord Lytton was appointed viceroy of India, and on April 12, 1878, surrounded by the princes of Hindoostan, he presided at the magnificent ceremonies on the plains of Delhi which attended the proclamation of Queen Victoria as empress of India.

An attempt was made Dec. 12, 1879, to assassinate Lord Lytton. He had just arrived in Calcutta and was being conveyed from the railroad station to the government house in one of the vice regent carriages. Suddenly a man named Buzza fired two shots at the viceroy and one at his private secretary, happily missing both gentlemen. The would-be assassin turned out to be a half-intoxicated Eurasian who had recently been discharged from a lunatic asylum.

Lord Lytton on April 25, 1888, was created Earl of Lytton. He resigned his position as viceroy in April, 1890, at the same time that the Earl of Beaconsfield resigned the premiership. In 1887 he was appointed ambassador at Paris.

Lord Lytton's first literary work was published in 1855. It was entitled "Clytemnestra, the Earl's Return, the Artist and Other Poems," by "Owen Meredith." Since that time he has written a large number of works, including "The Wanderer, a Collection of Poems in Many Lands," "Lucille," "Tannhauser, or The Battle of the Barde," "Julien Fane, a Memoir," "Serbski Pesme," (a collection of the national songs of Servia), "The Song of Amasis," "The Poetical Works of Owen Meredith," "Chronicles and Characters," and many others.

Shot by His Sweetheart.

ZANESVILLE, O., Nov. 25.—Charles Payne called on his sweetheart, Maggie Belleville, Monday evening, and found her handling a small 22-caliber revolver. He remarked jokingly: "Well, Maggie, I see you are armed; suppose we fight a duel?" "All right," was the response, and she pointed the gun at him and pulled the trigger, the ball entering the left eyeball and penetrating the brain. Payne shows remarkable vitality, having been conscious most of the time since the shooting. The young woman is nearly crazed with grief. She didn't know it was loaded.

Searching for a Murderer.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—The police are searching for Charles Spalding, a colored boy, who lives in Sligo-under-the-Hill. He is wanted on a charge of attempted murder. Spalding was hunting on a farm owned by Charles Lithenaur, yesterday, and was ordered off the place. He retaliated by shooting Mr. Lithenaur in the side, leg and arm. Despite his wounds, the injured man gave chase, swam the river in pursuit, but was so weak from loss of blood that he could go no farther. His injuries are serious.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1891.

OLIVER & ROBERTS, proprietors of the Southside Wire Works, Pittsburg, have reduced wages twenty per cent. Their employees can give thanks Thursday that the reduction was not 40 per cent.

THE BULLETIN has it from a reliable source that the Maysvillians who put money in Ashland real estate a year or so ago can't close out their investments now at 25 cents on the dollar. They would have been much better off had they bought Maysville property.

THE Republicans will have their hands full next year looking after the doubtful States. There are Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Montana, California and others that they will have to keep a close watch on. The G. O. P. won't have any picnic in '92.

THE Martin County Gazette is convinced that "when the time comes that the felon can be tried and be on his way to the penitentiary within twenty-four hours after committing his crime, then fewer crimes will be committed." But that time will not come anyways soon.

CLEVELAND and Boies are natives of Erie County, New York, and in their early political career were rivals for the office of District Attorney. Puck has flung their banner to the breeze as its choice in '92. Iowa Democrats will be only too pleased to furnish the second man on the ticket next year, and they've been doing so well of late years that they will receive very earnest consideration.

It is estimated that the new Middleborough Town Company has up to this time paid out about $80,000 on the floating debts of the old concern, which amounted to not far from $250,000. With $1,200,000 of British money to build up with, the "marvelous city" will soon take on another boom. It has done one good thing already—it has taken Bell County off of the "pauper list." Bell now pays about $8,000 a year of net revenue into the State treasury.

THE Louisville Times, the tail-end of the Courier-Journal, is indulging in some nice talk about a few of Kentucky's Representatives. Hear what it says: "If Crisp secures the Speakership, keep an eye on those five Kentucky Congressmen who have pledged their votes to the Tammany candidate and see if they are not advanced to committee chairmanship, to which they are not entitled by seniority of service. The heels of the nigger under that woodpile are already visible through the telescope."

THE Times will not make itself any friends by trying to besmirch the character of the five Kentucky Representatives who don't just happen to be for the C-J's man, Mills. Is it the policy of the Times to rule or ruin?

For the Farmer.

Green, Embury and Howe, the two former of Cincinnati and the latter ex-Sheriff of Fleming County, are feeding 200 head of cattle at the Thomas distillery, in the West End.

The peanut crop is in fair condition, and will be about 65 per cent. of the enormous crop of last year, when 5,000,000 bushels were grown. About 400,000 bushels of last year's crop will probably be carried over.

Fleming Gazette: "Hood & Parker, fed 20 hogs that weighed 1,070 pounds, and at the expiration of 42 days they weighed 2,070 pounds, a gain of 1,000 pounds or an average of 4 pounds a day on each hog. They fed 30 others that gained 2½ pounds per day. They were fed good water, good corn, and good clover."

Ranks Among the First.

The Indianapolis Journal says of Miss Margaret Reid Kackley, who appears here to-morrow night: "Born into an atmosphere of music, her eldest sister being a sister of local note, musical taste and expression seemed intuitive, and before she was seven years old she was in much demand for church and other local concerts. Her work abroad of about three years has brought her to the front rank of the younger artists of to-day. Even before her professional debut she is classed with Melba, Eames and Van Zant, the most successful prime donne of the French opera of recent years."

The box-sheet at Nelson's indicates that this gifted singer will receive an ovation here to-morrow night. There are some good seats not yet taken, and if you want the choice of these, don't delay.

H. Cox and Mayor E. E. Pearce, representing the municipality, and M. F. Marsh, representing the press.

All ex-soldiers of the community, under the auspices of Joseph Heiser Post, with a band of music, are constituted an escort.

The General will be escorted from the depot to the Central Hotel. In the afternoon a meeting will be held of the survivors at the Post's room in the Cox Building. An all-day lunch will be provided in the east room, first floor, of the Cox Building for all the visiting survivors.

At night there will be an open meeting at the court house, to which the public is invited. General Cox will deliver an address. The citizens are requested to hang out the stars and stripes and decorate their homes and places of business.

THEIR WORK DONE.

The National Republican Committee Adjourn Sine Die.

THEIR LAST DAY'S SESSION.

The Executive Committee Will Make All Arrangements for the Minneapolis Convention—Representatives of the National League of Republican Clubs Meet and Talk About the Political Situation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The national Republican committee adjourned sine die at 6:30 o'clock last night. Shortly after 10 in the morning the committee met in secret session in the Arlington hotel and its first business was to refer to the executive committee, with power to act, the preparation of all matters connected with the Minneapolis convention. It was announced that the executive committee would assume personal charge of this work, including the direction of the preparation of the convention hall, the printing of tickets of admission, the appointment of assistant sergeants-at-arms, doorkeepers, etc., the taking of a stenographic report of the proceedings and other routine work of preparation and conduct.

During the session a conference took place between the committee and some of the members of the citizens' delegation of Minneapolis, and as a result it was decided to have a chart made showing the seating capacity and other details of the hall. The call for the national convention of next year was submitted to the committee by the sub-committee in charge of its preparation and approved. The committee elected Channing F. Meeks, of Colorado, sergeant-at-arms of the national convention. Many members of the committee left for home after the morning session, and some difficulty was experienced in securing a quorum for the session in the afternoon. The committee was finally, at 2:30, called to order in secret session. Representatives of the National League of Republican clubs, which held a meeting in this city yesterday evening, were present by invitation. The meeting was devoted to an interchange of views on the political situation in various states, the representative of each state giving his ideas as to what could be done and what was necessary to do.

A significant speech was made by ex-Governor Pinchback, of Louisiana, one of the colored members of the committee. He said that the political oppression of the negroes in the south was largely due to the bearing of the white Republicans there, who kept their party men, of the African race, from taking an active part in politics and from asserting their right of suffrage. Mr. Pinchback advocated a fostering of a more independent spirit on the part of the southern negro voters, and he claimed that the assertion of independence in casting their ballots would give southern states to the Republicans.

The following resolution was adopted with regard to party organization in Utah:

RESOLVED, That, in the committee elected by the convention of delegates at Salt Lake City, Sept. 2, 1891, we recognize the Republican territorial central committee of Utah.

RESOLVED, That we recommend to all the men of Utah whose ideas of national government and policy are in harmony with the national Republican party, that they now bury their local differences and unite to rescue their territory from the danger and dishonor of future Democratic control.

A meeting of the executive committee will be called in two or three weeks by Chairman Clarkson to begin preliminary work in regard to the convention.

The sub-executive committee of the National Republican league, appointed to decide upon a place and date for the next convention of the league, held a long session at the Arlington hotel last night, and finally decided to refer the matter to a special committee consisting of General Clarkson of Iowa; Mr. Allen of Michigan; W. W. Tracy, of Illinois; E. C. Little, of Kansas, and W. E. Riley, of Kentucky. This committee will meet subject to the call of the chairman. The reason for referring the matter to a special committee was that the sub-committee has not time to discuss the matter in all its phases, and to give every city that wants the convention an opportunity to present their claims.

Senator Carey has been designated to promote league club organization in Wyoming, and H. W. Higgin has been authorized to do the same work for Colorado. Hon. William H. Chamberlain, of California; M. C. George, of Oregon; George Christ, of Arizona; L. Guthrie, of Oklahoma, and D. M. Angel, of Texas, have been temporarily appointed to take charge of work in their states and act as members of the National League executive committee until officers are chosen by those states and territories.

Making a Good Report.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—Herr Wermuth, imperial commissioner to the world's Columbian exposition, has filed his report of his visit to the United States. He strongly recommends that Germans do all they can to secure a good representation at the fair. He regards Chicago as remarkably well located for the exposition. He states that he is making good progress in organizing joint exhibitions of certain industries, and is forming a committee for the women's department.

A $100,000 Fire in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 25.—At 11 o'clock Monday night the rear part of 362 Court street was discovered on fire. The block is composed entirely of business houses. The flames spread rapidly, and the water supply being insufficient the engines were nearly useless. There was great alarm, but the fire was confined to the buildings on the block mentioned and the loss is only about $100,000.

Indiana Convicts Released.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 25.—Governor Pifer has pardoned Patrick Crowe, convicted in Cook county of assault with intent to kill, and sentenced to the Joliet penitentiary for six years.

THANKSGIVING EVE.

Hand in hand through the city streets, As the chill November twilight fell, Two childish figures walk up and down— The bootblack Teddie and sister Nell, With wistful eyes they peep in the shops, Where dazzling lights from the windows shine On golden products from farm and field, And luscious fruits from every clime.

"O Teddie," said Nell, "let's play to-night These things are ours, and let's suppose We can choose whatever we want to eat. 'It might come true, perhaps—who knows?' Two pinched little faces press the pane, And eagerly plan for the morrow's feast, Of dainties their lips will never touch, Forgetting their hunger a while at least.

The pavement was cold for shoeless feet, Ted's jacket was thin; he shivered and said, "Let's go to a place and choose some clothes." "Agreed!" said Nell, and away they sped To a furrier's shop, ablaze with light, In whose fancied warmth they placed their hands And play their scanty garments are changed For softest fur, from far off lands.

"A grand Thanksgiving we'll have!" cried Nell, "These make-believe things seem almost true; I've most forgot how hungry I was, And Teddie, I'm almost warm, ain't you?" O happy hearts, that rejoice to-day, In all the bounty the season brings, Have pity on those who vainly strive To be warmed and fed with imaginings! —Congregationalist.

Misses Susan Marshall, Keith Green, Mamie Key, Lucy Durrett and Lulu Bell were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Hortense Davis, of Helena, and Miss Alice Wheeler, of Maysville, were guests from Friday till Monday, of Miss Lullie Hunter.

The marriage of Mr. Richard Wood and Miss Mary Porter Durrett will take place to-day at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Durrett.

GERMANTOWN.

Weather too disagreeable for item hunting. The Mabley & Carew exhibition was quite a success.

Our farmers are busy stripping tobacco. Buyers are prospecting, but have bought none as yet.

It is a subject of general regret that the wedding of Miss McAtee and the concert of Miss Margaret Reid Thursday should come on the same evening.

Jno. Jett, Esq., and his neighbor Jno. Forge both had a valuable horse kicked and a fore leg broken, last week. They ended the animals' sufferings by shooting them.

Died, on Sunday morning, Nov. 22nd, 1891, Mrs. Arthur Thompson, in the 26th year of her age. The deceased had been in failing health for some time from diabetes, and took a severe cold last week, followed by pleurisy and congestion of the lungs. She lived only about twenty-four hours after taking her bed. She was united with the Christian Church when sixteen, and was a faithful and consistent member. After appropriate funeral exercises conducted by her pastor, Elder P. H. Duncan, she was buried in Maple Grove cemetery. She leaves a father, husband and two children to mourn her untimely loss.

ABERDEEN.

R. H. Stevenson went to Georgetown Monday. Dr. Stevenson is playing shotacrypopist at the drug store.

Genial Hi Tyler, the well-known salesman, was in town last Saturday.

Mart Smith is making a tour of the northern part of the State and Michigan.

W. S. Sibbald, one of our popular grocers, received a large lot of goods last week.

The lecture last week at the M. E. Church was pronounced a decided success in point of merit. Monday was a hustler, day of all sorts, like a box of mixed candy, assorted as to kinds but not so sweet by a majority.

Coal was landed here Sunday, the first in many days. Aberdeen had been entirely destitute of coal for some time previous.

John Weaver and family were in Manchester Sunday, attending the funeral of Mrs. Weaver's niece, a Miss Tolle, of that city.

Major Lee Simmons, a mighty clever boy, and Gen. Jim Cheesman, than whom there is no better, left for Cincinnati Monday. Lee goes back to school and Jim on a visit.

Keep a stiff upper lip and steer for the north star is an old adage. We know some young men who have recently become possessed of the lip, but can't vouch for the star part.

We see by an exchange that a man in the East has invented a cast iron hen who lays 100,000 eggs an hour. It does look indeed as if the business capacity of the old time hen was at end.

It is a good thing to have a cinch. 'Squire Beasley has one and the best paying one in the State. Monday's wind blew in a good many couples, and consequently the attending shekels.

There is a place for everything and everything in its place, but a young man is sadly out of place when in questionable places. The mills of the gods revolve slow, but they get there all the same.

Charley Brooks, an old time Brown County boy, now Sheriff of Franklin County, O., was in town a short while last week, renewing old acquaintances. A clever gentleman, by the way.

You can see lots of folks who, to let them tell the tale, are above doing anything but that which is just so. Poor, deluded fools. Don't they know when the general assortment takes place that their hypocrisy will be exposed?

Ed. Rains, of whom mention has been made as being very sick, died Monday morning at 5 o'clock. Ed. was an exemplary young man, kind, courteous and a gentleman in his bearing, a young man whom everybody classed as a friend, beloved by all, an enemy to none, cut off in the bud of manhood. May his soul rest in peace.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a Girl, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
